

West Georgia Textile Heritage Trail

Fall 2015 Newsletter

Website Update:

Our Website Manager Hannah Givens, with Trail Administrator Emma Murphy, is working hard to revitalize our website by making it more user friendly and easily accessible. Through our connection with the Geosciences Department at UWG, we are working on a new interactive map that displays photographs and information about each community's textile history. We invite you to take a look at our website and let us know what you think! We will contact our members for more information about Trail communities as these pages are added to the WGTHT website.

Bremen Wayside Exhibit:

The WGTHT Bremen Spur signs have been installed in downtown Bremen -- across from City Hall, at Sewell Mill Events Facility & Community Center, and adjacent to The Sewell Companies (shown left). Look forward to an opening event this fall!

Arcadia Book Update:

We are in the final stages of our guide book through Arcadia Publishing. The scheduled release date is December of 2015. Here is a sneak peak of our title page! The cover image shows the interior of the Sewell Manufacturing Company's plant in Temple in the mid-1950s. Stay tuned for events relating to the final publication as we get closer to the release date!

Regional Meetings

Members, check your inbox out for our survey about WGTHT regional meetings. Instead of an annual conference, we are planning three meetings in early 2016 to discuss different topics, such as marketing, networking, fundraising, and others. Please email us your ideas and interests by the end of October 2015!
